CHRISTMASTIME, AS WE all well know should be a joyous and happy time.

But in the mad rush of shopping and mailing that has become so much a part of the season, sometimes it is difficult to be as "joyous" and "happy" as we would like.

Admittedly clerks, in many instances, must exercise great self control as they face the daily onslaught of customers.

And, of course, clerks, being human, often are unable to hide their real feelings.

'Tis the season to be jolly.

But, boy, one has to work at it.

AS WE NOTE THE MOBS thronging the big stores during the season and the harried looks on the faces of both clerks and customers, we appreciate more and more the more leisurely pace of the shoppers in the Campbell stores.

Long ago we gave up Christmas shopping in the huge shopping centers.

It is not that we don't like people. Some of our best friends are people.

It is that the surging mobs of humanity, pushing, shoving, buying, looking and shouting is upsetting.

Invariably we end up buying something we don't want because we were in a hurry to get out of the mob scene.

And, as we belong to the last - minute - Christmas-shopping-school, it is that much more frustrating, for there seems to be an awful lot of people who belong to that same school.

Oh, we know, the big stores are glamorous.

Their decorations are beautiful.

Their stocks are huge.

And they are a necessity.

But we will take the more peaceful atmosphere of the area local stores, if you don't mind. They are busy but in a nice way.

We seem to always find what we want locally at competitive prices and where in most instances the clerks greet by name.

We like it thataway.

INCIDENTALLY, THIS more peaceful, pleasant attitude is prevalent at the Campbell post office as well as in the local stores.

But there is one thing certain about the post offices. One can't get a better deal in any larger office than you can locally.

And the "selection" of merchandise is the same whether in Campbell or San Jose.

Seriously, however, many people who have tried the bigger post offices, maintain that the Campbell postal personnel are far more pleasant and agreeable to deal with.

We thought that should be passed onto Postmaster Jim Hurley and Dick Adams and the entire local crew of the Campbell post office.

It's a nice thing to know that their attitude is appreciated by strangers as well as local residents, especially during the "trying" season of Christmas.

Maybe it is because they do try harder in Campbell.

WE ARE NOT SURE BUT we think Jeanette Watson, who spearheaded the clean-up drive for Campbell as chairman of Citizens for Beautification is responsible for the current clean-up drive at The Press office.

We will have to talk to Jeanette about the disruption of our routine.

Somehow the city clean-up campaign ardor must have rubbed on our Shirley Hess, circulation manager for The Press.

Shirley has staged a one-woman clean-up drive at our joint that is unequalled in our annals.

Hand-written signs have appeared on the walls of the office, pleading for cleanliness, etc. and cooperation in the drive.

Some of the signs included such gems as: "Please keep your hands off walls and

PLANNING COMMISSION APPROVES PLAN FOR 18-STORY TOWER

"Tower" gets go signal

Local developers win approval of projects

Coincidentally Campbell's two biggest developers, Fred Sahadi from the "east side" and Ira Kirkorian from the "west", received the blessing of the Planning Commission Monday night for their future plans for their respective shopping centers at opposite ends of town.

The main feature of the evening was the approval of plans submitted by Sahadi for an 18-story office building at 1001 E. Campbell Ave.

The approval of the tower was the first under the new zone (C-2-0) for the city that will not go into effect until Jan. 2, 1969.

The glass enclosed tower, which will be the tallest building in Santa Clara County when completed, was approved under "special development permit No. 1" and this followed the action of the commission recommending that the present zone of the 34-acre parcel at Campbell and Bascom avenues be changed from C-2-S to the new C-2-0 on the westerly portion of the property. This zone is described as an "overlay" zone which, basically, allows variances in heights and other features.

Under C-2-S the height is limited to 75-feet but under the overlay zone this limit can be raised.

According to the plans approved, the building will be almost 250-feet in height with a steel frame with exterior walls of solar bronze vision glass and opaque black spandrel glass divided by bronze anodized mountings. The ground floor columns and walls are to be precast concrete.

Kirkorian, the developer of Kirkwood Plaza, was sort of a co-star with Sahadi at the meeting Monday.

Kirkorian also scored well.

His application for a use permit to allow an auto service center without lube bays and limited to two gas pumps for property on the northwest corner of San Tomas Road and Bucknall Road was approved by a 5-1 vote.

Cabin problems concern Council

A report emphasizing the poor conditions of the 17 cabins at 117 Gilman Ave., which were ordered demolished two years ago in an agreement with the then owner, Harold Strickland, will feature the special City Council meeting this Thursday (Dec. 19).

The staff report was ordered by the Council at the last meeting when a request was submitted by Mrs. Alice Ferish, the new owner, that the demolition of the cabins be deferred from the Jan. 10 deadline.

Mrs. Ferish purchased the cabins in August from Strickland. She has indicated that she was aware of the demolition agreement at the time of purchase. City Attorney Joe Bonacina has also ruled that the agreement remains binding even if the place has been sold. Strickland has also put up a corporate surety bond specifying that the cabins would be removed.

City Manager Bob Stephens, since the last City Council meeting, has contacted John Burns, executive director of the Santa Clara County Housing Authority, as to the possibility of relocating the tenants of the cabins in quarters under the leased housing act. Stephens will report on that particular phase of the problem to the City Council.

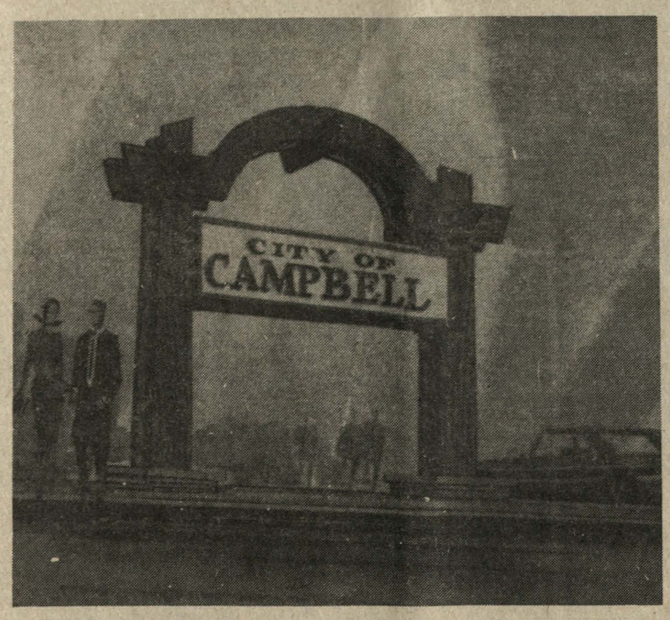
Some of the councilmen are especially irate because cabins had been re-rented during the past two year period. They had understood they were to be demolished whenever a vacancy occurred.

But it will be the comprehensive report on the condition of the cabins that will be submitted by Wally Byron that will attract the most attention at Thursday's meeting.

Byron's report shows that none of the cabins have heaters or hot water. None have bathrooms. There are no front yards. Total square footage is 264-sq. feet in the combination living and sleeping room with a 9x12 kitchen and 3x4 toilet area.

Byron's report indicates that the cabins do not meet even minimum housing standards and that all 17 units are recommended for condemnation and that repairs should not be permitted.

Summarizing, Byron points out: "These units do not have foundations, framing, adequate sanitation facilities, heating or hot water, exterior is not weather-tight."



IS THIS CAMPBELL?–One of several sign designs presented to the Beautification Committee last week was this mission-style theme. Work and designs are proposed by Campbell JayCees, who would underwrite the costs of placing the signs at five or six city entrances.

C of C members 'check' check plant Thursday

Following a noon luncheon tomorrow (Thurs.) at the Tiki Ho Restaurant on Hacienda Ave., members of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce will tour the Deluxe Check Printing Co., 1551 Dell Ave.

The new plant, located on a five acre site, replaces a five-year old plant located in Santa Clara, and is managed by Edward J. Meszaros.

The company, with headquarters in Chicago, is rated as the country's largest producer of bank stationery.

This will mark the last monthly meeting of the current year for the Chamber and will be the last such meeting for Ken Mantle as C of C president.

The 50 new Chamber members, (or as many of them who will be present) signed up during a one-day blitz Nov. 1, will be introduced at the luncheon

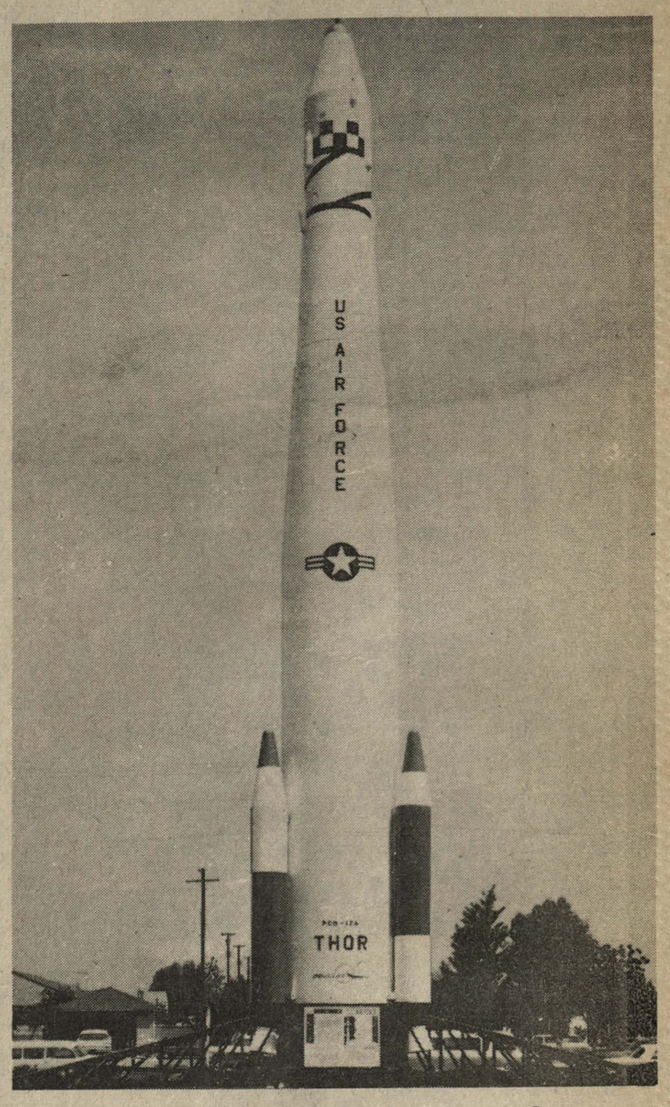
On Jan. 24 the Chamber will host an installation dinner-dance at the Villa Felice when newly elected directors and officers will be installed.

Early issue

The Campbell Press will be delivered next Monday, Dec. 23, two days before Christmas.

The office of The Press will be closed all-day Dec. 24, and of course, on Christmas Day, Dec. 25.

The same schedule will be in effect the next week for the New Year's holiday.



"Thor" could land here

In a special meeting Monday, the Parks and Recreation Commission requested Sgt. Ken Stears, of the local Air Force recruiting office, to "nominate" the City of Campbell as a location for an Air Force thrust augmented Thor Missile exhibit.

The display stands approximately 80-feet high and would take up a space about 50-feet x 50-feet. The Air Force had notified the recruiting offices that certain missile displays were available for permanent loan to "deserving" communities. Recruiting officers were asked to specify why a community was deserving.

Hank Cary, chairman of the sub-committee of the Parks and Recreation Commission responsible for Rincon Park development, had recommended to the commission that Thor missile be located in Rincon Park. He said the space vehicle would be constantly popular with the children and would make an impressive display.

"It is the type of attraction", Cary added, "we need to direct interest to our civic improvement idea and should form a focal point for our play area needs."

If the "nomination" by Sgt. Stears meets with the approval of the higher brass in the Air Force, Don Hebard, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission, indicated that the commission would then consider it more thoroughly before making any recommendation to the City Council.

Our kind of city

At the dedication of the Joseph V. Gomes Park on Sunday, Dec. 8, Don Hebard, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission, gave the welcoming address.

Hebard's talk was succinct.

Yet because of its briefness it was impressive and it made an impact on the 250 or more people who were in attendance at the novel program in which the park was "wrapped up" and presented to the city as a Christmas gift.

The dedication was truly an all-community effort. Literally more than a thousand school children had a part to play in it through their work on the Christmas card panels that encased the "package".

In addition, hundreds of man-hours were expended by volunteers in the landscaping which transformed the weed-patch into an attractive garden spot.

Hundreds of dollars were contributed by citizens in the development of this mini-park.

All in all it was a community achievement for our community in which we all can take pride.

Fittingly enough the park was named after a distinguished citizen of our community, Joseph V. Gomes.

Joseph Gomes, a graduate of Stanford in law, returned to his native community to operate the family ranch. He was elected to the first city council of Campbell in 1952 and served for 21 consecutive years as a member of the high school board of trustees.

We think that Don Hebard in his brief welcoming address captured the feeling of his community on this occasion.

For that reason we are pleased to present his remarks in their entirety:

BY DON HEBARD

Welcome everyone to this afternoon ceremony in dedication of this beautiful little park....

A Christmas present to our City from one of its neighborhoods.

And what a magnificent present!

And who could have ever imagined such a present being so beautifully wrapped....

Wrapped, tied with a ribbon and a giant bow and with a Christmas card bearing the hundreds of names of the donors.

It bends the mind to think of the bag that Santa Claus must have used to deliver it.

AND whose chimney?

This park is being dedicated to the memory of Joseph V. Gomes, a man who most of you here knew, respected and admired and loved.

For those of us who did not know him, his greatness can only be measured by the impact and influence his life left on this community.

We can read his biographical sketches and note his records of public service but we can also see among us his family, his children who are carrying on his traditions...and how he must have inspired them.

Inspired them to their devotion to their community--for their sincere continuous giving of themselves for others.

Joseph Gomes is remembered as a quiet, self-effacing man of much wisdom and foresight.

He believed most in the principle of people working together in their own community and solving their own problems...not only of the time but of the future.

As was said of another recent great figure---He was the kind of man I would have liked to have been.

He was the kind of a man, I would like my son to be.

This park or "mini-park" as it has been affectionately known, is the result of a pure community effort by individual people in this neighborhood supported by many, many others inspired by the pride of a people of a city in doing something themselves for the benefit of all.

It is more than just a gesture of pride.

It exemplifies the character of one whole community.

Campbell is the kind of City in which I want to live.

It is the kind of City in which I want my children to live.

doors"–"Smile as you clean"–"Keep our office clean"–"Your office reflects your work"....etc.

There must be a hidden meaning in one sign which simply stated "Help George". (We haven't figured that one out yet).

But we think Shirley was trying to tell us something.

Then there was one in our office that read "Cleanliness is next to Godliness"....

We got the general idea that perhaps we could do better in this clean-up line. So we really have been trying.

This was especially true after Shirley had finished mopping and straightening the desks.

One of the desks we used was covered by a sheet.

And the window that separates our own office from the main one was shut.

For a day or so we did try keep our desk clean and neat.

But you know something, we are still looking for some of the items that were on our desk for ages that we have now filed carefully away.

But, we must admit that the office probably did need some sprucing up.

-0-

A LETTER SIGNED ONLY "Concerned" hit our desk last week.

It had to do with the dilemma faced by the city with respect to the cabins at 117 Gilman Ave. which were to have been demolished over a two-year period.

The two-year period will be up in the middle of next month and people are still living in the cabins that were rated uninhabitable two years ago.

So, if the City Council orders the demolition to be carried out...the city will be the villain because the renters will be "put into the street".

We think it is grossly unfair to berate the City Council in this instance.

In our opinion, the cabins were unlivable two years ago. They are even more so today.

People should not have to live in such places.

City Manager Bob Stephens and his staff are searching for a solution to the problem. They hope to find housing for the present renters.

The unfairness, however, of the situation makes us growl a bit.

Two years ago the then owner of the property agreed to demolish the cabins over a two-year period. He put up a surety bond to assure the city that this would be carried out.

Most observers, including your editor, thought then that during the two-year period as a cabin became vacant, it would be torn down.

Apparently that did not happen.

Cabins have been re-rented during the two year term.

And to complicate matters more, the property was sold last summer.

The new owner has asked for a deferment on the demolition condition, pointing out that a housing shortage is acute in the area.

NO ONE "DESIRES" TO displace people from their abodes.

And we are certain the renters in the cabins will not be forced to "live in the streets" by the city.

It is difficult to disagree with Councilman Dean Chamberlin who sincerely believes that the cabins are better than nothing.

But our point is a simple one.

The cabins should not have been lived in to begin with.

They were built as "temporary" quarters for itinerate cannery workers more than 60 years ago.

They were not built well then.

And the passage of time has not improved them any.

All of us are "concerned". Our anonymous letter writer who signed "Concerned" has no monopoly in that feeling.

But if a person is sincere in his belief, there should be nothing wrong in signing his real name, there is no "concern" in the phone book.

You certainly know who writes this column every week.

Don't you?

voted "no". The other five commissioners present, Jack Healey, Merrill Grim, Dale Scott, Thayer Lyons and Kel Young approved it.

The commission also approved Kirkorian's request for a zone change of property adjacent to the proposed auto center from C-2-S to R-3-S. Kirkorian said he planned to build apartments on the parcel.

Kirkorian's request to rezone his entire shopping center from the present C-1-S zone to C-2-S was modified by the commission. Instead of rezoning the entire center, the commission gave C-2-S only to an undeveloped portion extending 150-feet from the present P-O zone on the east.

In other actions, the commission approved remodeling the building front at 350 E. Campbell Ave. which is owned by Bill Hedley, local architect.

The commission also approved the prezoning of properties on Union Ave. that are in the process of being annexed to the City of Campbell (McGlincey 1968-7).The prezoning calls for the five parcels to be zoned R-2-S or R-3-S.

In the final matter before the commission on Monday, City Manager Bob Stephens and Bill Wren, director of public works, reported on the proposed six-year capital improvement program for the city.

Stephens explained that it had been recommended by staff that $1.5 million be es tablished for major and minor streets including the downtown core. The source of the of the $1.5 million would be from a future city bond issue in 1969 or 1970. Stephens explained also that without a specific circulation plan, he did not think the $2 million two-loop system for downtown should be included in the current capital improvement program.

Discussion by the commission again centered on the location of the loops.

San Jose may join Campbell in beauty drive

Campbell and San Jose may join forces.

Object of their combined efforts will be the beautification of both cities.

Campbell Citizens for Beautification received a proposal recently from Helen Root, vice chairman of the San Jose Beautification committee, that the two groups jointly apply to the sponsors of a service station beautification contest (major oil companies) to consider both Campbell and San Jose in their judging next spring. (Last year a local station. Schoeny's Shell, 2006 Winchester, was a winner in this contest.)

A second contest, a homeowner beautification contest, would be presented by the two committees to the San Jose Realty Board, for consideration of their backing. Local realtor Clair Wilson, is president of the board, which would require several months of preparation if they decide to sponsor the contest next spring. Sponsorship will include all prizes and judging by the realty board.

Current project of the Campbell committee is the completion and mailing of a 100 plus page scrapbook for entry into the 1968 National Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Contest. Mailing date is Dec. 23.

City Council awards "yard" bid Thursday

Campbell's City Council will take the first steps in the most ambitious building program in this city's history on Thursday night (Dec. 19) at a special meeting when the contract for the long-awaited corporation yard is scheduled to be awarded.

In a unique financial arrangement, the Council will award the contract for the corporation yard on Dillon Ave. to Pete Cristich & Sons of Campbell for $158,440.

In turn Cristich will receive the money from the Equitable Leasing Co. of Burbank. Campbell will pay back the leasing firm over a five-year period.

Money from the general fund will be used only. The lease arrangement will allow the entire yard to be built at one time instead of piecemeal.

In another building matter, Felix Castellanos, the city's acquisition agent, will report to the City Council on the status of the property that will be needed for the civic center.

It is understood that purchase agreements have been reached for at least six of the 11 parcels needed.

The Council will adjourn at the close of Thursday's meeting until next Monday, Dec. 23, the regular meeting of the Council. The extra session was needed to clear the deck for the new year.

One of the items to be discussed at next Monday's meeting (which will be after press time as The Press will be delivered on Monday afternoon) will concern the off-and-on-ramp study that has been made for Highway 17 at Campbell Ave. by the George S. Nolte engineering firm.

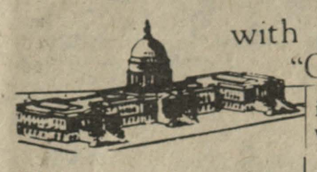
ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



With most of the nation anxiously waiting to open Christmas packages, President-elect Richard M. Nixon already knows what he's getting–the most awesome and overpowering set of unsolvable problems which could be conceived.

A preview of President-elect Nixon's problems went on sale on December 6 as a book, "Agenda for the Nation", published by the nonpartisan Brookings Institution, a highly reputable research foundation with headquarters in Washington. The work, written by eighteen experts on government, was compiled before it was known whether the problems it outlined would be inherited by Mr. Nixon or his Democratic challenger, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The picture painted for the incoming President by the Brookings publication is anything but bright and in fact is downright dismal. Ironically, it showed that the major issues which Mr. Humphrey and Mr. Nixon seemed so smugly confident of solving during the campaign are in fact destined to continue as major problems of the future.

The Brookings scholars claim, "It is wishful thinking to expect a vast source of money to become available to solve America's domestic problems" even if the war in Vietnam comes to an early end. According to President Johnson's Director of the Budget, Mr. Charles L. Schultze, one of the authors, our vast military budget can only be reduced by $2 billion if the war ends soon.

Harvard Professor James Q. Wilson, an expert on crime and police work, was most pessimistic about success of any Administration in solving the problems raised by the campaign issue of "law and order". While predicting the need for federal subsidies for local police departments, Wilson intimated that the best we could hope for was a reduction in the increased rate of crime, rather than a rollback.

Relocating industry inside slums and ghettos, an idea enthusiastically supported by President-elect Nixon during his campaign, was branded as economically unrealistic.

"Embalming the ghetto as an area of involuntary confinement", said Negro psychologist Kenneth C. Clark, "is based on the assumption that the ghetto is inevitable, will always exist, is unchangeable and can be self-contained."

The worst migrane headache which the Brookings publication predicts Mr. Nixon will find beneath his Christmas tree is the war in Vietnam. Harvard Professor Edwin O. Reischauer, a former Ambassador to Japan, says the United States has "a year or at most two" to arrange a way out of Vietnam. He rejects the alternatives of "a bigger war" or a forced withdrawal and says the end must be found through negotiation and international guarantees for the security of Laos, Cambodia and Thailand.

Guitars stolen from smashed display window

A musical Christmas is apparently the aim of a burglar who smashed the front plate glass window of the Campbell Music Center, 68 E. Campbell Ave. sometime during Friday night or early Saturday morning.

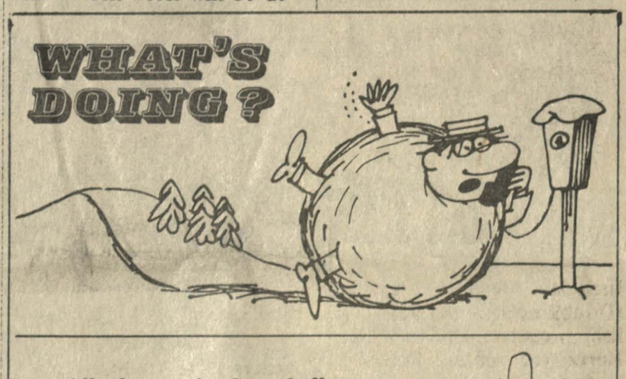
The thief, with a taste for guitars, removed two electric guitars from the window, one blue and one red, valued at $100 each. They also made off with two amplifiers, according to Sonny Chiaramonte owner of the music store. Shattered glass was scattered over the sidewalk and the interior of the building.

During the week police were also called to 785 McGlincey where the Crest Croft Emblems company reported the theft of numerous athletic sweaters, monograms and wind breakers. The doors were jimmied open and the clothing removed.

Other burglaries occuring during the week included the Charles A. Gray residence at 235 N. First St. A window was broken and a currency collection worth $250 was removed by someone who apparently knew what to look for. The collection consisted of half dollars, dimes, Indian head nickels, four $20 bills and two $10 bills.

Tools in a tool box valued at approximately $500 were removed from the garage at 760 Monica Lane according to Dwight Kelsey who reported the theft. Robert Crawford, 1605 Sheffied Ave. lost $108 worth of cash and jewelry, and to add insult to injury, the thieves tracked mud all through the house. Entry was made through a sliding rear door. Police Chief John Morgan cautioned home owners with sliding doors to secure the doors by placing a length of wood in the track which effectively prevents a burglar from sliding the door open.

Shop lifters were at work in the Campbell Plaza shopping center with two juveniles being caught carrying out cloth ing from the T.G.&Y. store after having removed Christmas cards from the Campbell Plaza Drug store racks. The Safeway Store in the same shopping center was also victimized and other juveniles were apprehended there.



All of us at the Campbell Pacific Telephone office want to wish you and your family a very Merry Christmas and the best for the New Year ahead! We've enjoyed serving you in 1968, and we've tried to bring you the best possible service. Our resolution for 1969 is to continue working toward this goal.

Why not start your Christmas shopping with a trip to the Yellow Pages. It's fast, easy. I've discovered that the Yellow Pages offer a whole lot of ideas about what to give for Christmas . . . helps solve many problems in finding gifts, even those unusual ones. And say, if you're planning a holiday party let your telephone take care of inviting the guests and ordering the refreshments, the decorations or anything else you need.

I'd like to remind you that if you're calling long distance to loved ones this Christmas telephone lines can be overloaded during the holidays. Why not put your calls through before Christmas and avoid possible frustration and delay. It's best to know the area code and the number ahead of time and dial the call yourself. Calling during off hours, like in the afternoon, should put you through more quickly, too. And don't forget: every night, special late night rates from midnight to 7 AM allow you to dial direct station-to-station anywhere outside of California in the continental U.S.A. (except Alaska) for 75¢ or less for the first three minutes. For example, you can call when it's 6:30 AM here and it will be 8:30 AM in Chicago or 9:30 AM in New York.

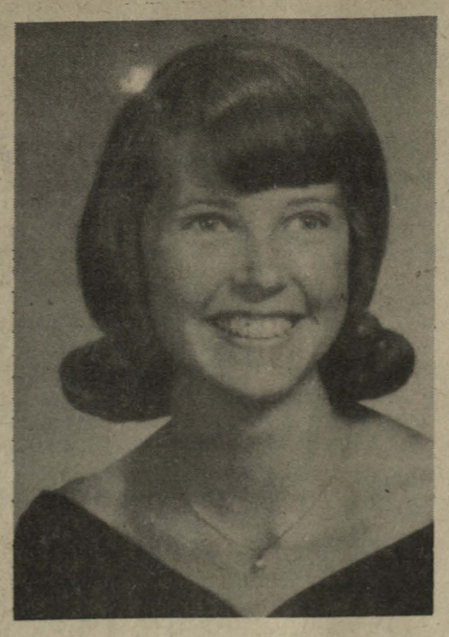
Betrothal Announced



CAROL LYNN BRANSON

The betrothal of Carol Lynn Branson to Sgt. Dale Bryant was announced recently by Carol's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Branson of 149 Cherry Lane, Campbell.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bryant of Merced. He is a graduate of Merced High School and attended Merced College for a year before enlisting in the Air Force. He is stationed at Mather AFB in Sacramento as an electronic systems specialist.

Annual dinner enjoyed by Rincon co-op

Members of the Rincon Babysitting Co-op had a delightful evening last week when members and their spouses enjoyed their annual Christmas progressive dinner.

Starting at the Wren Way home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hess, the group enjoyed hors d' oeuvres enhanced with champagne punch. Mrs. Joseph Lattuada and Mrs. David Tuller helped keep the serving trays full.

Moving on to 2296 Wren Way, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas DeHaas were the hosts. Here salads, ham and scalloped potatoes and wine were consumed. Helpers were the Mesdames Patrick Sullivan, Ernie Bedard, Ronald Bowron and Andy Anderson.

Topping off the dinner with a delicious dessert of ice cream cake at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lee, 2272 Maximilian Dr., the group then walked, drove or bicycled over to the 2237 Wren Way residence of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Connolly where everyone celebrated the success of the dinner with more punch and exchanged Christmas gifts. Games were also enjoyed by the members.

At the last minute the soup course, which was to be served at the Baker Cleveland home with the help of Mrs. Gerald Palmer, was cancelled due to the illness of Cleveland, who was confined to bed with a severe case of measles.

The babysitting co-op group has been in existence for several years and the members have come to depend on one another for baby-sitting needs. However, on the occasion of the progressive dinner, they all found they had to call in "outside sitters" and even pay them, something they haven't had to do since the formation of the group.

Christmas is a time for sharing------

Twelve seventh grade children, students of Mrs. Robert Sullivan's catechism class at St. Thomas of Canterbury Church, learned about sharing and giving to others last Friday night.

Only it really all began at Thanksgiving time when Mrs. Sullivan realized that just collecting the articles to be given to others in need was not really involving the children in the actual giving. So, right after Thanksgiving, Mrs. Sullivan and the children in her class, which meets in her home at 785 Harriet Ave., started collecting used toys and making plans. The children cleaned and mended and painted the toys, repairing as necessary, wrapped them lovingly and planned to share then with those who were less fortunate.

In the meantime, Mrs. Sullivan had contacted the "Friends Outside", an organization helping families where the husband is confined to prison. She was given the names and addresses of a number of children between the ages of three and eight where the Christmas would be very skimpy this year. Each family was personally contacted by Mrs. Sullivan and told who would be picking up the children and the time to expect them back. Parents of the students were pressed into service as chauffeurs.

The children of her class were able to identify the packages to be given to the individual children and they all contributed toward purchasing candy which was then bagged. The big night came, and in spite of the stormy weather, Santa Claus in the form of Ted Brown appeared, and 47 children, including the Sullivan three, the 12 from the class and the guests enjoyed a wonderful evening. As the guests departed, each with two gifts apiece, they were presented with gifts for baby sisters or brothers left at home.

Everyone had a wonderful time, and the children of the class were all so enthused that the affair is being planned for next year.

So Christmas really is a time of sharing with others.

IT WAS CHRISTMAS PARTY TIME--Little Dean Burgos, three year old daughter of a Campbell Community Hospital staff employee, Mrs. Betty Burgos, who is employed as a nurse at the hospital, was one of the nearly 80 children who enjoyed the recent party given for the hospital employees in the hospital conference room. Dean, one of the three Burgos children invited to the party, had a nice confab with Santa Claus and Marko the clown.

Ladies! Short Cuts To Sewing Skill, a fascinating book, is the beginning of the end for all your sewing problems. The outstanding feature of this is the photographs.

COME TO MY HOUSE, McIntosh, John

The magic that begins with the first sentence is sustained to the last. The settings are vivid, the characters are totally real to us, and we care intensely what is going to happen from one page to the next. Here we have a funny, agonizing, irresistable novel about young love.

YEARBOOK IDEAS ON LAYOUT & PHOTOGRAPHY. Darnell, Tony

Here we have the first comprehensive source book of visual ideas in the field of yearbook design and photography. Literally dozens of fresh, striking ideas cram each chapter. Carefully planned, beautifully printed, profusely illustrated, Yearbook Ideas is an indispensible reference source for all concerned with the preparation of yearbooks.

GLASS PALACE, Lewine, Ethel

Kay is a beautiful, intelligent and sensitive woman from an aesthetically tuned home with a craving for adventure. But as she matures, her warmth and idealism make it impossible for her to accept much of the callous and self-serving world around her.

MY 10 SECRETS OF SKIING, Beattie, Bob

In concise and direct language the author outlines his method, from the very basic principles to the more advanced techniques for the competitive skier. The author won a medal at the Winter Olympic Games in Innsbruck in 1964.

THE TRAITOR GAME, McLeish, Dougal

A French-Canadian university student slips into the crowd at the Prime Minister's (Canadian) garden party and shoots him. Almost at once it was evident that the murderer was no more than a tool...Read it and find out what later develops.

HAWAII'S ENCHANTED ISLANDS, Czolowski, Ted

A beautifully illustrated folio sized book on The Islands. Includes 240 full color photographs. A good book to forget winter by.

THE SST: HERE IT COMES, READY OR NOT, Dwiggins, Dor

This is the story of the SST--the supersonic transport--filled with immense technical, political, and even international drama. The author shows just how the SST could revolutionize not only flight, but the whole idea of travel. The SST presents the greatest challenge in aviation history.

THE OCCUPYING POWER, Griffin, Gwyn

Here is a superbly written tragicomedy about the corruption of absolute power on a British-occupied island during World War II. The author reins in his wild humor to present his individual portraits in a splendidly satirical vein. Written by the best-selling author of An Operational Necessity.

PROSPERO STRIKES IT RICH, Sister Maria del Rey

A group of Maryknoll Sisters arrive to join forces with a number of Capushin priests in helping people help themselves in a tiny Nicaraguan town. Prospero Strikes it Rich is the story of what happens. The writing is swift-paced and sharp, generously salted with humor.

THE INNOCENT, Kim, Richard E.

The Innocent is a compelling story which deals with the unavoidable moral issues of our times in a context of violence and duplicity and almost unbearable suspense.

PLEASE, KITTY, COME HOME--Billy Hubbard, left, holds Prometheus in a picture taken during happier days before Prometheus left home. The eight months old orange striped male cat has been missing from his home at 180 S. First St. since Dec. 4, and the three children, Billy, 7, Lisa, 6, and Russy, 5, are heartbroken. Last Friday the Varsity team lost against Blackford with a score of 62-47. Jim Russell made the most points for the Bucs scoring 17.

This week the Live Oak Tournament will be played in Gilroy against schools outside of the league.

The results of the Saratoga game that was played yesterday will be announced next week.

The Christmas dance held last Friday in the cafeteria was a big success. The 1843 band provided the music. The dance had a "Mexican Flair" and went well with the semi-formal occasion.

An all school election will take place on Friday for the election of the primary candidates for Student Council. The candidates running for councilmen are: Steve Borsgard, Dan Cunningham, Jim Gaddis, Charlene Gates, Ed Guerra, Jim Royer, Roger Thompson, Therese Wheeler and Peter Wilderman.

The presidentail candidates are: George Akina, Mark Cunningham, Mitch Fair and Janie Wong. Out of the nine council candidates six will be chosen and out of the four presidential candidates two will be chosen.

An assembly will be held this week for the annual Christmas program. The assembly will be an hour long with no fifth period being held that day. The program will have the orchestra playing, the choirs singing and the pirettes doing a skit.

Last week, pictures were taken for the yearbook. Any student who was in a club or commission received a pass to get out of class for the picture.

The wrestling team won their match against Seaside but lost their match against Gilroy. The head coach of the wrestling team is Coach Al Mathews and the assistant coach is Coach Lou Marotti. High hopes are given to the team. The next home wrestling match is scheduled for Jan. 10 at 3:30 against Prospect.

Del Mar Dateline

By Janice Hallyburton and Molly Ford

Molly Ford, a Del Mar senior, was elected Christmas Queen at the annual Christmas Ball on Friday night. Molly wore a long blue and silver brocade gown. Her escort was a former Del Mar student, Mike Craig. Princesses for the Christmas Court were Chris Lundquist, Mickie Vitale, Karen Difiore and Pat Conn.

The Student Council of Del Mar is instituting a program where a senior citizen in the Del Mar attendance area can receive at no cost a card enabling the bearer to attend all home athletic contests, musical and dramatic events.

The purpose is to encourage senior citizens to continue to identify with school, as well as to thank them for their interest and support of public education both past and present.

We ask that those interested please stop by the Del Mar high school main office at 1224 Del Mar Ave. anytime between 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Along with the card a calendar of events will be issued.

Lights for the bowl have been approved by the District School Board. However all money and commitments must be met before construction can begin.

Friday the 13th was a not so lucky day for the Leigh Longhorns. The Del Mar Don's varsity basketball team won over Leigh and the Frosh-Soph lost their game.

Del Mar recently held their annual Fall Sports Banquet. Mr. Ray Dyer served as Master of Ceremonies. Special football awards were presented to Loren Toews, outstanding back; Ken Camp, most improved; and Ed Yager, most valuable lineman. Bruce Runcie received the cross country award for the most valuable cross country runner. The cheerleaders, song girls and lettergirls served at the banquet which was attended by about 360 people.

Essay contest offers $400 in prize money

Campbell junior and senior high school students are invited to enter in the $400 essay contest now being sponsored by the San Jose Chapter of the California Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Subject for the essay is "The Dynamic World of the CPA". The essay should be between 600 to 1200 words in length, with $200 being offered for the first prize. Robert Bullard, the Faculty and Student representative of the local chapter will be placing the material in the Campbell schools during the week.

It is suggested that the students discuss the theme of the essay with a local CPA. Bullard is located at 100 Rincon Ave. Garman and Callahan on Impala Dr., also will be glad to make appointments with interested students to acquaint them with the opportunities offered them in the field of public accounting.

Two $100 second prizes and four $25 prizes are being offered by the group. Deadline is April 15, 1969.

Contributions to TB Christmas seals needed

First returns from the $160,000 Christmas Seals campaign show lagging figures behind last year, according to George A. Starbird, former San Jose Mayor and civic leader, and chairman of this year's 61st annual drive.

Starbird urged all those who have received the Christmas Seals in the mail to send in their checks immediately to the Christmas Seals office, 1144 N. Fourth St., San Jose, Calif., 95112. Phone number is 293-0347.

Camden Chatter

By Diane Carman

Helping sixth graders to survive the wilds and appreciate their beauty filled six Camden seniors' waking hours last week. Fred Isaia, Ann Grewhol, Roy Durbin, Greg Shuster, Phyllis Aiello and Gail Newton, served as counselors at Redwood Glen.

Four other seniors participated during November. They were: Sandra Vivieros, Norbert Renner, Liz Fletcher and Maureen Murphy. The weeks of Jan. 12, April 2, and May 11 are still open for volunteer counselors. Redwood Glen is a rewarding, interesting and pleasurable experience.

Some Camden students will be enjoying a semester course of personal typing to begin Jan. 25. A total of 124 students will take part in the class to be taught by Mrs. Judy Buck.

The five classes of students from study centers are filled with 63 freshmen, 36 sophomores, 12 juniors and 13 seniors.

GAA hockey players are striving to defend last year's league championship. Organizing this effort is Miss J. Lathrop, hockey coach and Anne Grewhol, hockey manager. They are teaching the girls fundamental control of the ball, stick and feet.

They faced their first competition on Dec. 5, overcoming Blackford in two team games with scores of substantial leads in both cases. This year's co-captains are Sue Jones and Paula Leuder, Cathy Fernandez and Sharon Farruggia, Laurie Dawson and Debbe Mercurio and Wanda Chaplin.

In GAA's basketball, emphasis has been placed on team work and box zone defense.

Because of basketball coach Miss S. Hunt's knee injury, Miss P. Fong and Mrs. S. Waterman will be guiding the team until her return.

Dec. 5 was also basketball's first game. Captains are Heidi Weyers, Brenda Poirier, Donna McKinney and Laurie Burnham.

Prospect Pulse

By Pat Hebard

The first annual Sports' Banquet was held last Wednesday night. The varsity football team, the frosh soph, the C and D basketball teams were honored. The varsity team gave certain awards to special members for their efforts on the team.

The most valuable Backfield Player was Frank Gerstel. The Most Valuable Lineman was Rich Knoche. There was a tie for Most Improved Player. They are Doug Hoyt and Kevin Landem. The Most Inspirational Player was chosen as Jim Grosset. The two captains of the team, Rich Knoche and Frank Gerstel, presented each of the coaches with a plaque of thanks from the whole team. Bruce Tenma, Jon Christianson and Rich Knoche made all-league. Mr. Bert Robinson, head of the P.E. department was master of ceremonies for the banquet.

The Christmas Ball was held last Friday. The "Proud Flesh" provided music for the affair. The semi-formal dance started at 8 and ended at 11. Refreshments were offered.

In line with the Christmas spirit the Prospect choir, orchestra, and ensemble will perform for the student body Thursday and Friday mornings. Tuesday evening was the performance for the public. The groups also entertained for a dinner for all of the Campbell Union High School District Maintenance Engineers A turkey dinner was ready for the students on their arrival. The groups will also perform for the Kiwanis Club on Thursday evening. The Christmas program is directed by Mr. Larry McCommas.

Girls' Sports battled with Westmont last week in hockey and basketball. The two hockey teams remain undefeated while the basketball teams aren't doing as well. Girls' Sports commissioner is Mary Eyerman.

Competition between the classes on a canned food drive is under way with the seniors leading by only a few cans. Students are to bring their food to the stage for counting. The drive will last all week.

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

By Nan Warren

Christmas is a time for "giving" but with Girl Scouts, it's not limited to one season. Girls of all ages, from Brownies to Senior Scouts, work on service projects year round to aid in their community. "Doing a good turn daily" comes easily for Girl Scouts.

Many of our Campbell troops are "doing a good turn" for the holiday season though. Troop 704, Bucknall Juniors, have just completed a box of stuffed toy animals for the Eastfield Children's Center.

Hazelwood Brownies, Troop 827, will be taking tray favors to the Eldercare Convalescent Hospital again as they did at Thanksgiving time.

Junior Girl Scouts, Troop 371, Capri School, found excitement, service and gift-making all part of the holiday season. Thanksgiving was the time to take a visit to a nearby pumpkin patch and choose their own decorations for the family table, courtesy of Walt Pruvich, owner. The following week found this busy troop making visual aids for the mentally retarded to be used in classroom learning situations. At the last meeting for this year, the girls had an opportunity to make beautiful wall hangings for their parents to use during the Christmas season.

Learning to look to the "needs of others" becomes as much a part of a Girl Scout as her smile.

CHRISTMAS SHOW

Elementary school children will be getting a special Christmas treat with the showing of a Yuletide program of the county-operated TV facility, KTEH/Channel 54 (UHF).

Because of the popular demand from the schools, KTEH will broadcast "Christmas Customs Near and Far", Dec. 20 at 1:30 p.m.

"Christmas Customs Near and Far" explores the origins of many of our Christmas customs. Children of German, Swedish, Mexican, Italian and Chinese descent enact typical Christmas celebrations of those countries.

ON "FRANK KNOX"

Radioman Second Class David M. Williams, USN, son of Mrs. Althea Williams of 263 Superior Dr., Campbell, participated in operation "Beef Trust" aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Frank Knox.

Boreal Ridge to get skiing lights

When the snow flies this winter in the Sierra, Boreal Ridge will be used by skiers during the day, and at nighttime too.

W. R. Mensinger, president of Boreal Ridge, said work is under way on a project to illuminate two of the Interstate 80 ski area slopes completely with modern mercury vapor and quartz iodine lights. The project will cost $40,000 and will be ready for the 1968-69 season opening planned for Thanksgiving–if the weatherman cooperates.

The lighting program was designed by Mark Jensen, lighting engineer in Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Auburn office in cooperation with fixture suppliers. The work is being done by Turner Electric Company, Grass Valley.

Installation plans call for 48 mercury vapor lights of 1,000 watt capacity to be installed from the lodge at 7,200 feet elevation to the top of Boreal Ridge at 7,900 feet elevation, over a distance of about 2,500 feet. Ramp and safety areas will be illuminated by six quartz iodine lamps rated at 1,500 watts each.

The lamps, designed for an even, shadowless distribution of light, will be mounted atop 40 feet wooden poles outside the ski area. Some existing trees will also be utilized for the high intensity lights, Mensinger said.

A new method of plowing the underground electrical cable directly into the earth is being used on the project.

The T-bar and the green chairlift will be the focal point of the colorful nighttime operation.

Mensinger said present plans call for nighttime skiing on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. On these days the lifts will be open continuously from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Boreal Ridge is located 60 miles east of Auburn on Interstate 80 at Boreal Ridge Road.

AS I SEE IT

EDITOR'S NOTE: Campuses of state colleges throughout California have been in the spotlight in recent months because of the demonstrations staged by irresponsible rioters representing only a small minority of the student body and faculty.

Thousands of dollars of public property have been destroyed and the education program for the vast majority has suffered as a result.

This column "AS I VIEW IT", is written by Dr. John W. Gilbaugh, professor of education at San Jose State, long a controversial figure on the San Jose State campus.

He believes that the present system of selecting faculty members and college administrators is faulty and is responsible for much of the campus disruptions. Other subsequent columns will be published. G.V.

Professor of Education
San Jose State College

Much of the campus turmoil deplored by college faculties can be traced with little effort to its source. The faculty, itself, must shoulder virtually all the responsibility for campus disruptions. For, behind the brawn flexed by dissident-activist college students lurk the brains of subversive and revolutionary college professors.

While the Boards of Regents and State College Trustees rationalize that a very small number of faculty members and students engage in disruptive tactics, and that the so-called silent, responsible majority will somehow prevail, the dissidents continue to plunder. Apparently, those public officials who are waiting for the silent majority to do their work for them are unfamiliar with history. Or they would know that very small, but highly organized and committed minorities have emerged victorious in societies which became decadent because properly constituted officials lacked the will and the courage to act.

There is, indeed, a discrepancy in what some of our officials tell us they believe and how they vote on the boards established to protect the general welfare of society. Too many of them display the ferocity of an angry lion in denouncing subversion subsidized at public expense. But the angry lion, much to our dismay, displays cotton claws at the conference table by voting to support usually ineffectual resolutions.

Because of the unsatisfactory conditions found on college campuses, conditions largely created by the faculty members themselves, several faculty organizations are threatening to further aggravate the state of chaos by imposing sanctions and striking. One professional society, the California College and University Faculty Association has served notice that unless working conditions improve sanctions will be imposed. One threat by this affiliate of the California Teachers Association is to warn prospective candidates for teaching appointments from out of state, not to accept employment in the eighteen California State Colleges. Inadvertently, however, such a sanction by CCUFA may benefit the people of California. For several years officials of both the State College and University Systems have been reporting to the California State Legislature that they have been forced, because of a shortage of available, qualified teaching candidates, to recruit third, fourth and fifth choice applicants to fill vacancies.

On the vanguard of the influx of third, fourth and fifth rate candidates employed during the past several years have been the subversives and revolutionaries. CCUFA, if it makes good on its threat to impose its sanction, may, indeed, perform a service by notifying members of college teaching faculties across the United States that the college teaching climate in California is changing. It is becoming hostile to subversion and anarchy!

Many of the problems which plague California Higher Education have roots in the flaws that underlie the Master Plan for Higher Education enacted by the California State Legislature in 1961. The plan is identified as the Donohoe Higher Education Act. Among other things it provided considerable latitude for a newly created Board of State College Trustees to formulate personnel policies. Placing their trust in professional leadership that espoused a philosophy of management which had failed and was laid to rest during the Middle Ages, this group of layment proceeded to turn the management of the colleges over to the state college faculties composed largely of subject-matter specialists who had little or no formal preparation for administering the institutions.

Academic Senates or Academic Councils, by Trustee edict, were mandated for each campus. A plan which virtually enabled departmental faculties to elect department administrators was soon implemented. This procedure is tantamount to permitting an employee to hire and fire his boss. Faculty search committees were appointed to review higher echelon administrators and report their recommendations to the Academic Senate.

College presidents, for the first time, were appointed on recommendation of faculty committees. What has been the result of the revolutionary change which involved extensive delegation of their powers by the trustees to college faculties? Chaos! Sheer chaos and anarchy.

Analogous to current college management would be the sudden impulse of the passengers aboard a large airliner to designate from among their number someone to wrest control of the plane from the trained pilot. The only qualifications of the pilot designee to keep the flight on course and to set it down safely at its destination, is that he has had experience as a passenger. Like the passengers taking over the airliner, the faculties in our higher educational institutions have taken over control of the administrative apparatus.

To remedy many of the ills which beset our public, tax-supported colleges and universities the governing boards of Trustees and Regents must withdraw some of the authority, which in error, has been delegated to the faculties. The most urgent action needed is to dissolve the Academic Councils or Senates, at both local and state levels. Such bodies, if they exist at all, should be a matter of local option of a college president who has been appointed to his position without faculty consultation, by the Trustees on the recommendation of the State College Chancellor. When authorized, Academic Councils or Senates must be advisory bodies, with no delegated, policy-making authority.

To have tenured faculty members, untrained in administration techniques, piloting our colleges and universities is to invite the chaos and anarchy which we now observe on every hand in our state college and university systems.

While there are many other college and university control measures which need the immediate attention of the governing boards of Regents and Trustees, the dissolution of the powers of Academic Councils or Senates must have high priority if sanity is to be restored to our campuses.

NEW ASSISTANT--Ray Snow, formerly with the Los Altos branch of the Bank of America and more recently on special assignment with "UBAC". Snow has been with the Bof A for 38 years, starting with the bank in San Jose after graduating from San Jose High. Snow and his wife, who have two grown daughters, reside in Los Altos. Snow replaces Leon Folsom at the Campbell branch. Folsom has been assigned to the Cambrian Park branch.

"Sky farming" could increase snow crop in Sierra watershed

Sky farming will be broadened this winter over California's high Sierra.

The goal is to increase the snow crop on the Stanislaus and Mokelumne watersheds.

Cloudseeding will be the means – through a controlled research project involving public and private agencies as partners.

Radio - controlled cloudseeding "burners" developed by Pacific Gas and Electric Company engineers and meteorologists in a five - year study in the Lake Almanor region will be installed at high elevations in the cooperative endeavor.

These ground generators are fired by propane gas for the production of silver iodide crystals. They'll be situated on mountain peaks, just as in the weather modification operations farther north at Almanor.

Seeding from aircraft also is contemplated in the project. Additionally, there are plans to install other ground generators in the course of the new study.

Principal directing body in the undertaking will be the Atmospheric Water Resources Research arm of Fresno State College Foundation. The project will be called the CENSARE Program –derived from Central Sierra Research.

No "rainmaker" endeavor, the sky farming program seeks to develop criteria for essential cooperative relationships between organizations active in the field as well as techniques that will be useful to the various partners and those they serve. The scientific cloudseeding will be designed to "bank" more snow during storm periods, generally at elevations above 7,500 feet.

Aircraft will be provided for seeding and evaluation purposes, according to the long-range plan. Hydro-logical diffusion and model studies with special surveillance will be among the project's components to assure sound appraisal of the program. Radar will be a tool in tracing storm activity.

Six of the PG&E-designed burners will make up the basic installation for the Stanislaus and Mokelumne project. Assembly work and site preparation are under way now and initial facilities will be installed by early December. The generators will be controlled by radio from PG&E's switching center at Angels camp.

Fresno State's AWRR group will maintain an operations center at Jackson.

Other participants include the Bureau of Reclamation, East Bay Municipal Utilities District, the Oakdale and South San Joaquin Irrigation Districts (Tri-Dam), Sacramento Municipal Utilities District, Stanislaus National Forest, El Dorado National Forest, the U.S. Navy, Desert Research Institute of Reno, and Meteorology Research, Inc.

A CENSARE policy board will be headed by Dr. Vincent J. Schaefer, according to Merlin C. Williams, director of the AWRR section of Fresno State College Foundation.

In a report given last November to the American Society of Civil Engineers Irrigation and Drainage Division, PG&E meteorologists said seeding operations in the Feather River's Almanor area during their five year study increased snowfall from cold westerly storms coming in from the Pacific.

Since such storms make up about 10 to 15 per cent of all storms, it was estimated that a long-term gain of about five per cent in annual precipitation was possible over that watershed if all cold westerly storms were seeded.

Focusing further attention on the developing science of sky farming over the high Sierra, PG&E this winter will continue its cloudseeding activity in the Almanor area–testing specific types of storms along with routine operations.

AF COMMENDATION

Master Sergeant Dominic Cirone, son of Mrs. Jessie Cirone of 2019 Foxworthy Ave., San Jose, has received the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at George AFB, Calif.

Sergeant Cirone, a legal technician was decorated for meritorious service at Mildenhall RAF Station, England.

The sergeant is assigned at George as a member of the Tactical Air Command.

He served during World War II.

He is a graduate of Campbell High School.

His wife, Lucille, is the daughter of Mrs. E. Gilson of 202 E. Sunnyside Ave., Campbell.

Civil Disorders

NEW YORK—The civil disorders that raged across the nation during the summer of 1967 caused insured losses of more than $64 million, the Insurance Information Institute reports.

ATTENDS DISCUSSION MEETING--Homer Hyde, vice-mayor of Campbell, right, watches as Mrs. Jacob Fesko, center, president of the Santa Clara County Motion Picture and Television Council, "identifies" V.L. Bradley, left, of the San Jose Entertainment Commission at a discussion held recently in the Conference Room at Breuner's in Campbell to formulate plans to upgrade motion pictures, television and the general field of entertainment.

Attended by 65 representatives of civic and service organizations and government officials, the group agreed to bring up the formation of a Santa Clara County Entertainment Commission on an Inter-City Basis at their January meeting of their respective governments.

Health department maintains screening service for diabetes

A screening service for diabetes and glaucoma is available to all adults over 30 years of age free of charge. The clinic is maintained by the Santa Clara County Public Health Department and the Sight Conservation Research Center, a non-profit voluntary organization.

Miss Arlynn Buder, Public Health Educator, stated the main function of the program is the early detection of diabetes and glaucoma. "It has been projected that one in 60 people have diabetes and most don't know it. It's one of the major chronic diseases. Glaucoma is an eye disease that leads to blindness when it is not treated. With early detection, proper medical care can now control both these diseases."

The one to one-and-a-half hour program also includes a chest x-ray, pulmonary functions test and blood pressure check. The screening program is designed to discover people with diabetes or glaucoma but not to treat them. Those in need of further tests are referred to personal physicians or to the Valley Medical Center.

"Since 1960 the screening clinic has handled over 28,000 people," Miss Buder stated.

The program is unusual for it is the only on-going multiphasic screening service of its type on the West Coast. The program has the active support of the Santa Clara County Medical Society for the total program.

The multiphasic screening service is handled by appointments only. In the San Jose area appointments can be made by calling the East Valley District Health Office at 297-1636, Ext. 234.

Farm Fires Soar

NEW YORK—Fires on the nation's farms cost an average of more than $500,000 a day. The Insurance Information Institute reports that farm fire losses in 1967 totaled a record $208 million.

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

(Editor's note: The following statement by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is reprinted.)

MILLIONS OF COLLEGE STUDENTS are returning to campuses throughout the country to begin the fall semester. They represent both the hope and the shape of the future. From the standpoint of educational opportunities and intelligence, they are far better equipped than any preceding generation to participate constructively in developing solutions to the many complex problems confronting our Nation.

It can be expected that most of these young people will fulfill the promise they represent to us. In so doing, they will join hands with the millions of Americans of good will who actively seek meaningful solutions to our social life. If our joint progress in this regard is impeded and deterred, much of the trouble will come from a growing band of self-styled revolutionaries who are using college campuses as a base for their destructive activities. This comparatively small group of arrogant, hard-core militants have contempt for the majority and our democratic processes. They regard themselves as the nucleus of an elite dictatorial ruling class of the future.

These extremists openly avow that their aim is to overthrow the existing order. Under the guise of academic freedom and freedom of speech, they profess to seek a dialog, when actually what they seek is a confrontation with established authority to provoke disorder. Through these confrontations, they expect to smash first our educational structure, then our economic system, and finally our government itself.

It is vitally important to recognize that these militant extremists are not simply faddists or "college kids" at play. Their cries for revolution and their advocacy of guerrilla warfare evolve out of a pathological hatred for our way of life and a determination to destroy it. The workshops they hold on sabotage and how to use it to further their objectives are grim forebodings of serious intent.

This New Left movement, as it is known, is growing both in numbers and varied forms of violence. Last spring, major disorders precipitated by the revolutionary adherents of the movement occurred on a number of college campuses. In the violent uprising at Columbia University, militant students and outsiders took over several buildings and committed senseless and deliberate destruction. The incident triggered similar disturbances on other campuses. Changes may be necessary and improvements in any institution can be made, but this is not the way to do it.

Encouraged by their "success" at Columbia, the anarchists in the New Left movement are boldly spreading the word that they intend to "create two, three, many Columbias," in the manner of one of their "heroes," Che Guevara, the Cuban revolutionary who cried "create two, three, many Vietnams!"

The main thrust of the New Left movement arises from the concerted efforts of the Students for a Democratic Society. Many of its members and some of its national leaders openly profess their faith in communist concepts and their determination to "restructure" our society. One of the militant spokesmen of this group stated, for example, that "perhaps 25 universities linked to the movement would be too much for the police—for the dominant class—and we would get what we demand."

The New Left leaders plan to launch a widespread attack on educational institutions this fall. They are relying on collegiate dissidents and militants to bolster and accelerate this drive. It would be foolhardy for educators, public officials, and law enforcement officers to ignore or dismiss lightly the revolutionary terrorism invading college campuses. It is a serious threat to both the academic community and a lawful and orderly society.
